The Lumas Gallery brings the claim “Liberation of Arts” to life. It succeeds in making high-quality art accessible to a large audience at fair prices. The illustrated book Liberation of Arts — 20 Years of Lumas delivers the liberation in book form and a fascinating overview of the current art scene. To mark the gallery’s 20th anniversary and after four successful volumes of Collecting Fine Art, this portfolio also impresses with its unique diversity: from architectural photography to landscapes, from abstract painting to street photography, from nudes to portraits. We also come across well-known names from the teNeues programme, such as Christophe Jacrot and Werner Pawlok. An art picture book that brings together established artists and exciting newcomers — for connoisseurs, collectors, and beginners!
