

attempts to be many

Nara Bak
Jana Buch
Donja Nasser
Arisa Purkpong
Anys Reimann
Theresa Weber

Sammlung Philara

Attempts to be Many

Edited by Julika Bosch

Edited by Katharina Klang

Edited by Sammlung Philara

ISBN

9783987410086

Publisher

Verlag Kettler

Binding

Paperback / softback

Territory

World excluding Germany, Austria, Switzerland

Size

180 mm x 115 mm

Pages

80 Pages

Name of series

Philara Collection

Price

£23.00

- Combining art and theory in paperback format
- The start of a joint series
- With works by Nara Bak, Jana Buch, Donja Nasser, Arisa Purkpong, Anys Reimann, and Theresa Weber

The Sammlung Philara and Verlag Kettler are pleased to present a resource-saving and affordable art book series in pocket format, aimed at mobile readers. In them, discursive exhibitions of the Philara Collection are documented and complemented with socio-critical voices from theoretical, journalistic or writing perspectives.

As an opener, the publication Attempts to Be Many poses the question of how dynamic concepts of identity can be formulated in opposition to rigid constructs of foreign attribution and ideological one-dimensionality. The exhibition of the same name with works by Nara Bak, Jana Buch, Donja Nasser, Arisa Purkpong, Anys Reimann and Theresa Weber in the Philara Collection 2021/2022 also negotiated the plurality of identities and new narrative forms in relation to learned narratives. The renowned cultural scientist and writer Mithu Sanyal opens up a very personal approach with her text to the exhibition by breaking through identity-political regulatory discourses that flatten into the categories of origin, ethnicity, religion, or gender.

Text in English, German and Thai.

Artistic Director, Sammlung Philara, Düsseldorf